JOURNEYS DO NOT END!

A three day nature study camp was organized for the first year students of Bsc Psychology Department and Bsc Botany Department at Wayanad Tholpetty Range as a part of the UPDATE course. It is located 20 kilometres east of Mananthavady in Wayanad district, which is famous for its beautiful flora and fauna. Tholpetty Wildlife Sanctuary is a place exclusively for wildlife enthusiasts and nature lovers who would like a bit of adventure. Although limited, the Jeep Safari is a great opportunity to enjoy the dense forests and stunning scenery all around. Herds of elephants, sambar deer, wild buffalo, bears, Malabar antelopes, occasional tigers and panthers were seen frequently. The lake that passes through the sanctuary is another interesting place to see the wild animals as they come there in search of water. The team spent three beautiful days in and out of the jungle. As they walked through the jungle for 16 kilometres they came across a variety of wildlife. When in the jungle the golden rule is 'to keep your mouth shut and to keep your ears and eyes wide open, and will be rewarded'. They spotted elephants, spotted deer and wild squirrels. They could not spot tigers but did managed to see their paw prints and faeces. A beautiful class was presented by beloved Muneer Sir on Nature and its resources. After the session, students had a Quiz Competition which was led by BFO Najmuddin Sir where they were asked questions on all he things they learnt at Tholpetty. He shared his knowledge and experience with the students. Then the officers who spoke were Sunil Sir (Asst. Wildlife Warden) and Coordinator (BFO) Madhavan Sir. And they said they cannot forget Radha Chechi who was with them from the beginning till the departure, Sivarajan Sir who led them in the trekking, Balettan, Raju and all the department staff who gave them all the instructions and information they needed. In a nutshell, the students got a unique opportunity to create an understanding of the various elements of environment, the excitement of discovery and hand on experiences and the joy of an interrelated world.

THE ART OF GETTING CLOSE TO NATURE
