2. HELPING HANDS TO THE NEEDY

When the flood swept out Kerala, many houses were very badly affected. People could not go for their earning for many days as very field of jobs were broken. So we thought it is our duty to serve the people as much as we can. Thus we, the palliative volunteers collected a good amount of money from the students and teachers bought food items and it divided into about 100 food kits. Our prime objective was to handover the food kits to the neediest. We set out as team of 60 volunteers to the tribal villages of Nilambur it distributed among the poor in those areas. All kinds of financial assistance were provided by the collage management including travel. It was an eye opening moment for the palliative volunteers.

PROGRAMME REPORT ON EXTENSION PROGRAMME (2019-2020)

DATE: July 23,2019

Venue: MUNNADI VILLAGE, PUTHANATHANI

Objective:

1. To expose the students to the real time experience in a village area to know their problems.
2. To educate the age-old people about the importance of educating their children for a better future.
3. To alert the remote women about the importance of good health and hygiene for a better life.
4. To extend a helping hand by distributing a few basic requirements related to the theme.

Outcome:

1. Students who visited the remote understood that there are people in and around who need little more attention.
2. Students were thankful to the College, JCI and the Department for giving them a chance to know the social problems.
3. Students' initiative to educate the women helped themselves to know more about the theme.
4. Apart from studies the students got a chance to extend a helping hand to the needy slum women, at least on a small scale with the sponsorship and support of the college.

Programme Summary: The English department in collaboration with JCI Puthanathani made a visit to a nearby village to promote the theme of education especially for girls and becoming self-independent which created a successful step forward to initiate small scale businesses.

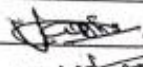

PROGRAMME REPORT ON EXTENSION ACTIVITY

VISIT AND INTERACTION WITH WOMEN OF MUNNADI VILLAGE

The Department of English felt the need to provide a chance to the students to know the social problems hence, took efforts to collaborate with JCI in this regard. JCI, an organisation which is in constant touch with the needy people in various ways, happily welcomed the collaboration to reach out especially to reach out to the women of remote areas to uphold them in new startups. JCI member Mr. Shihab took special interest and extended all support for the meaningful activity. The extension activity was undertaken on 23-07-2019 at 2pm at MOONADI where more than 30 students who belong to the Department of English of 3rd and 2nd year volunteered to visit the village. Students who volunteered for the visit made a thorough preparation to make their visit a useful one hence, planned various activities which includes talk by Asha P., HoD, Department of English, on both the themes, 1 skit was performed by students in Malayalam on the theme so that the women would understand better about the need of self-dependency. Two students gave a talk on the theme one in Malayalam language which made all the difference. Lower primary Students participated in a game activity and distributed prizes for the first 3 places. College management provided a bus facility for the students to reach out to the spot and then back to college. .
